I. PROGRAM ORGANIZATION INTRODUCTION

First Baptist Church, as a fellowship of believers, has many individuals involved in ministries and committees, in addition to the times we come together for Worship and Bible Study. This Program Organizational Manual is a document in which the Committees and Ministry Teams are defined for the knowledge of the Church membership. The Committees and Ministry Teams are defined as to purpose, tasks for which they are responsible, and method of involvement.

If you have an interest in serving in one of these areas, please contact either the chairperson of the group or the minister liaison for the group.

A unique partnership exists between two groups of First Baptist Church members: the ministerial staff and the Deacons. Under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, each is called by the church and charged with providing spiritual leadership, pastoral care, and equipping for ministry throughout the entire body of the church.

Professional Ministerial Staff. The Senior Pastor and other staff ministers lead the church in proclamation of the Gospel, worship of God, Christian education and discipleship, active ministry and mission service, and belonging and caring in the family of faith. Each staff minister provides leadership and expert counsel for groups of laity who serve as biblically mandated ministers in the church, in the community, and to the uttermost parts of the world.

Deacons. As ordained ministers alongside the professional ministerial staff, Deacons share in all of the tasks of spiritual leadership, extending the ministry reach of the church. Deacons support the spiritual health of the congregation by considering the spiritual nature of decisions and plans of the church, and by offering living examples of serving Christ and the church according to the spiritual gifts God has entrusted to each of them. Deacons provide primary leadership for pastoral ministry teams including Hospital Visitation, Home Visitation, Bereavement, and Prayer Teams. These ministry teams serve as prototypes for this proposal, in which church-elected leaders enlist other church members to serve alongside them in hands-on ministry. Deacons are elected by the church membership after prayerful consideration from both the candidates and the church. Thirty-six voting deacons serve a rotating 3-year term with twelve rotating off each year and twelve rotating on.

Leadership Council. The Leadership Council meets monthly for the purpose of communication and coordination among the Church's groups and organizations. The Leadership Council is further charged with serving the congregation and assisting the Senior Pastor to recommend, develop and implement strategic direction to ensure that the direction of FBC is consistent with our stated vision. Chaired by the Senior Pastor, this group consists of the Chairs from Personnel, Finance, Trustees, Missions and Deacons. the Church Treasurer, and WMU Director are also members of the Leadership Council along with two at-large members enlisted by the Nominating Committee and elected by the church.
